Draft Law Invoked, Reservists Face Threat Of Service Call

Congress Reaction To Draft Favorable

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—President Truman dangled the draft law over the heads of reservists and prospective recruits today in an urgent effort to build up military manpower for the demands of the hot war in Korea.

The President gave the Pentagon power to draft in a general order late yesterday designed to lift economy limits imposed on the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force.

Draft Picture At A Glance

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—Here is a brief summary of the draft action taken by President Truman yesterday, along with main provisions of the Selective Service Act which becomes effective tomorrow:

Armed forces strength—May be increased by draft, to total limit allowed by law: 2,005,882. Strength as of May 31: 1,458,400. Difference: 547,482.

Who must register—All males between 18 and 26.

Who may be inducted—All registrants over 19 years old.

Who may volunteer—Anyone who is 17 or older. Seventeen-year-olds must have parental consent.

Term of service—21 months for draftees; at least three years for Army volunteers; at least four for Navy; four years for Marines; four years for Air Force.

Reserves—May be called up under the law, along with National Guard but probably won't, at least immediately. All services will "welcome" certain specially-qualified volunteer reservists.

Dulles Demands Production Hike

Wants Industry Switch To Arms Manufacture

HAMILTON, N. Y., July 8—(AP)—John Foster Dulles pushed today for increased U. S. military production "right away."

He added this note of urgency after a speech in which he said the nation should convert more of its industry to manufacture of arms in order to shield free nations against attack by Russian-equipped Communist satellite forces such as invaded South Korea.

The Republican foreign affairs adviser to Secretary of State Acheson told newsmen:

"I think it should be done right away."

Dulles said he could not estimate how far the nation should swing to wartime production.

Dulles' speech last night opened the second annual conference on American foreign policy at Colgate University.

In it, he declared:

"It will require us to devote a greater percentage of our vast economic productivity to military production so that other free nations will not be exposed to being overrun by Communist satellite forces equipped with armament furnished by Russia."

Used B-29s In Pacific Traded For New Ones

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—The B-29 Superfortresses now hammering at targets behind the Korean Communist lines were in mothballs a year ago.

Air force officials say the big medium bombers reached the Far East as the result of a decision to "trade in" the B-29s left on Guam after World War II for better ones being kept in plastic cocoons in this country.

County Property Sold

H. C. Morrison of 975 E. Third st., Salem, was the successful bidder Friday when county commissioners offered the Ellen Leasure property in Perry Township for sale. Morrison's bid of $700 topped three other bidders.

Pour Concrete On Monday For New City Hall

Contractor Expects Building Completion Within Six Months

Concrete will be poured Monday to form part of the first floor of Salem's new $239,995 City Hall at E. Pershing st. and S. Broadway, Charles Gill, supervisor for the Campbell Construction Co. of Warren, said today.

He estimates that the new 105 by 95 foot municipal building will be completed by the next six months.

Laying of bricks for the inner wall of the basement occupying one-fourth of the entire building space at the northwest corner was completed this week, and workmen are clearing that area in preparation for the concrete.

To Lay Cornerstone

"We were rained out the first six weeks when we began the job last March," Mr. Gill said, "but the work is now progressing right along."

All told, there are 23 workers at the job, including six carpenters, four bricklayers, eight laborers, two masons, two plumbers and an electrician. More workers will be hired as the building progresses, he said.

The sandstone is being shipped in this week in huge slabs for the four-foot belt course to form the lower part of the building. One of the slabs will represent the cornerstone, which is due to be laid in about a month, Mr. Gill said.

Red brick will form the upper part of the exterior above the sandstone. All windows in the structure will be filled in stone and contain all-steel sashes.

The fire department will be housed in the one-story portion of the west side of the building. Three overhead garage doors will work electrically to speed drive-in cars. Locker, photo will also have access to two rear entrances.

Attractive Entrance

On the west side of the main floor will be the police garage and men's and women's cells. Police headquarters will be on the east side, which also will include a dormitory.

The main entrance to the building will be finished on the interior in marble and terrazzo. Flooring for the remainder of the building will be asphalt tile.

The second floor of the main portion of the building will contain the mayor's court room and office, council chambers, and offices for the city engineer, draftsman, auditor and safety director.

Rising above the building will be the 55-foot chimney-like tower where firemen's hoses will be hung to dry. Locker, photographic, storage and boiler rooms will be situated in the basement.

Three Persons Hurt In Traffic Mishaps

Three persons were injured in a series of road accidents in the district.

In a city mishap, Mrs. Edith Abbott of 563 Aetna st. suffered possible fractures of the right leg and right elbow at 9:23 p. m. Friday when the car she was driving was hit by the auto driven by Richard Ellis of R. D. 4, Salem, at the intersection of S. Lincoln ave. and E. Pershing st.

Her condition was reported "fairly good" today at the City Hospital.

Police said the accident occurred when Mrs. Abbott's auto, headed north on S. Lincoln, turned left onto Pershing in front of the Ellis car. Mr. Ellis suffered a cut nose. Both vehicles were considerably damaged.

A car driven by Arthur Tidd of Youngstown hit the car driven by Richard Davis of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., at the intersection of W. State and Jennings at 5:35 p. m. Friday and dragged the auto sideways five feet into a corner post.

Ralph Emmons Succumbs At 63

State Official Was Native Of County

Ralph Wallace Emmons, 63, a native of Columbiana county, former chairman of the state civil service commission and candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state in 1934, died Friday in University Hospital, Columbus.

He had been a supervisor in the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation until his retirement last June 30.

Born on a farm near East Rochester, April 27, 1887, Emmons began his political career in 1910 when he was elected clerk of West Township. He served six terms. For 15 years he was a member of the Columbiana county Republican central and executive committees.

For 25 years he was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad, advancing from a minor position to that of agent for the operating department.

He was elected to the state legislature from Columbiana county for two terms, serving in the 86th and 87th sessions in 1925-1927. Emmons resigned in 1927 to accept appointment by Gov. Vic Donahey to the Civil Service Commission. He served as a member under five governors and was chairman of the commission for 10 years.

$6,000 For Cab Fare? Woman Almost Paid It

SEATTLE, July 8—(AP)—Taxi driver James O. Pascoe almost collected $6,000 as a cab fee.

Mrs. Nettie Cross hired his cab found she didn't have the funds to pay the $5 charge and turned over some of her husband's clothes as security.

Later Pascoe took the clothes to the Cross apartment. A very worried husband, William Cross, hadn't known about the transaction and had reported the clothes stolen. He quickly thrust a hand into the pocket of one of the returned coats and pulled out $6,000 in cash.

Police reported "everyone satisfied."

Rush For Sugar Cleans Shelves Here

"It isn't a matter of what they need, it's more a matter of 'how much can I get?'"

That statement by a local grocer fairly well summarizes the way Salem housewives have been buying sugar needlessly.

Although the government insists there is no real shortage, customers have been "gobbling up" all they can get of the commodity.

Most grocers in town say they have just enough sugar on stock for a day or two, and have been limiting the purchases to five to 10 pounds per customer. One local grocer made a trip to Youngstown Friday to buy 100 pounds to hold him over for the week-end shoppers. Requests for large amounts also have been frequent.

"A man came in yesterday and asked for 500 pounds," a grocer on Damascus rd. said today, "but he didn't get it."

Other reports range from "none at all on stock" to ample supplies. A few of the grocers said they have noticed no unusual demand for sugar and have put no limit to buyers.

A great deal of the requests for large amounts, however, have been made by customers in the midst of their home canning. The strawberry season is just about over and the canning of cherries has begun.

Heaviest demand for canning purposes will be around the middle of August when the peach season begins. Housewives are reminded that there will be sufficient sugar on stock during the canning season.

Rubber Plants Reactivated

Government To Make Synthetic Supplies

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—Three of the government's war-built synthetic rubber plants are being recalled to active service. Their mission: To add 88,000 tons to current U. S. synthetic output of 487,000 tons a year.

A recent sharp increase in natural rubber prices—now selling for around 31 cents a pound compared with 18.5 cents for synthetic—appeared to be behind the decision.

Greater availability of the lower priced synthetic will help American manufacturers of tires and other products to hold down their costs and prices. They have emphasized no tire shortage is in prospect.

The action also will leave more natural rubber available for stockpiling by the government against an emergency need. Most natural rubber comes from the Far Pacific.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation said it is arranging for reactivation of three plants which have been in standby status.

1. A plant at Port Neches, Tex., which can add 75,000 tons annually to current output of 425,000 tons a year of general purpose synthetic, used in making tires.

2. Another at Baton Rouge, La., which can add 13,000 tons a year to current annual output of 62,000 tons of butyl special purpose rubber which is used in inner tubes.

3. A Houston, Tex., plant which turns out butadiene, one of the major component materials necessary to the projected increase in production of synthetic rubber.

Invaders Prepare For New Attack

TOKYO, July 8—(AP)—General MacArthur said today the North Korean offensive was curtailed today but the Reds continue probes to the south while massing troops for renewal of their offensive.

A headquarters communique said between 40 and 50 North Korean tanks and heavy truck-drawn artillery were reported north of Pyongyang in the main west front battle zone.

Between 40 and 60 enemy tanks supported by more than 1,000 troops were reported crossing the Ansong river and heading southward toward Songwan, the announcement said.

It added aerial observation has disclosed a concentration of Red troops and armor from Pyongyang eastward to Wonsu.

Supplies, equipment and personnel were reported "steadily flowing from the north to the northwest."

The announcement at 11:45 p. m. (4:45 a. m. Salem time) added that elements of two North Korean divisions are in the vicinity of Wonsu, 20 miles north of Chunju, a main highway intersection. "The continued buildup of North Korean forces in this area indicates a distinct possibility of a wide envelopment attempt to cut the main north-south communication line, possibly in the Taejon area," it said.

The communique said "reports over the past three or four days indicate a steady buildup of enemy troops along the east coast."

Fear Drive on Pusan "Troop and tank concentrations in this area which has been relatively quiet since the outbreak of the Korean war suggest the fact that preparations are under way for a drive in the direction of Pusan."

Pusan, on the southeast coast, is Korea's largest seaport and the main port of entry for American supplies and troops.

The communique followed earlier reports that ground fighting had been comparatively quiet during the last 24 hours. Both North and South troops were reported yesterday to have confined their activities to probing thrusts while the main opposing forces were regrouping along a not-too-well defined line.

American warplanes, however, were extremely active yesterday as the weather cleared.

A high American official at U. S. headquarters in Korea said American planes had knocked out as many as 40 Red tanks south of Suwon. But air force reports in Tokyo were more conservative, claiming only 20 as probably destroyed.

General MacArthur said American troops had captured a mammoth 60-ton tank — the largest Russian-made tank yet seen in the Korean war.

192 Yanks Missing "South Korea's air force chief, Brig. Gen. Kim Chung, said his pilots, flying American-supplied Mustangs, knocked out two tanks. One pilot, trained recently in Japan, blasted a Red tank Wednesday in a suicide crash-dive, Kim said.

The American-led action met little opposition except from anti-aircraft fire. A veteran navy flier who led a carrier strike over North Korea July 3-4 told newsmen yesterday the communists must be conserving their air power for desperation use. Cmdr. Harvey P. Lanham said the North Koreans had many nearby hidden away under netted revetments which could be discovered by low-level fliers on straggling missions.

General MacArthur's communique said two F-40 jet planes were lost—one probably by enemy ground fire and the other in a forced landing after running out of fuel.

MacArthur estimated American combat casualties to date at 240, of which 192 are missing. Many of the missing are expected to get back to the American lines later.

That was the word yesterday from Jacob E. Davis, vice-president of the Kroger Co.

"There is plenty of raw sugar on hand, insofar as we know."

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Develop Confidence In Yourself

"THE SKY'S THE LIMIT." How many times have you heard this old and much-repeated American expression? And have you ever asked yourself whether it means you or someone else? Have you enough confidence in yourself to believe that the sky's your limit? I'm afraid that many of us lack this confidence in ourselves. Day after day, I see dozens of weary and defeated people, who have lost their self-confidence and are on the road to losing everything they have as a result.

The most important factor in developing and retaining confidence in yourself is the ability to apply one of the most powerful thoughts which can actuate the human mind: the idea or belief that Almighty God, with all His power, is WITH YOU PERSONALLY.

Dr. Peale

In the Bible we read, "I am with you always," and we are told that what is impossible with men is possible with God. It is a known fact that people who firmly believe that God is with them do accomplish tremendous things. Nothing seems to be able to stop people who believe they have Divine resources at their disposal. As the Bible says, "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

THIS REALLY WORKS. If you will start this next week with the idea that God is with you as you go to your business or undertake whatever job or task is yours, I will guarantee that you will have one of the best weeks you ever spent.

I'm not saying this from hearsay but from real experience. Although I am now a minister, I was once a salesman and I will never forget how I learned to sell. (And it doesn't make any difference what you are selling—merchandise, ideas or yourself.)

I began my sales career selling aluminum ware many years ago. With my kit of utensils, I was given a sales talk to commit to memory. I started out to sell with this kit and this sales talk, but not one shred of confidence.

I was living in a little town in Western Ohio, but I didn't have enough courage to sell where people knew me; so I went across the state line to a small Indiana city. Arriving there, I walked by half a dozen streets before I found one that looked promising.

The first house on the street was run down, with an unpainted fence and an unmowed lawn. I said to myself that people like these wouldn't buy anything new. And I went on to the next house, which was well-painted and beautifully kept. There I reasoned it was no use knocking at the door because people that well off must certainly already own aluminum ware. At the third house, I could think of no excuse for myself and approached its door with fear and trembling. My Industrialist's Son Refuses $2 Million.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 8—(AP)—A cardboard box jammed with more than $2,000,000 in cash was spurned by Robert I. Ingalls, Jr., at odds with his father in a dispute involving a vast family industrial empire.

Ingalls refused to touch the money offered him for 4,501 shares which he owns out of 15,000 shares in industrial holdings valued at $25,000,000.

Armed guards brought the cardboard box to the office of Gen. John Persons, president of the First National Bank. Ingalls had been asked to wait there.

Details of the offer were disclosed by participants yesterday. Ingalls and his father quarreled in 1948 after the son was divorced and remarried. The son was removed as president of the Ingalls Iron Works Co., Ingalls Shipping Corp., and various subsidiaries, of which his father is chairman of the board.

After the son turned down the two million plus offer, the armed guards carefully carried the cardboard box away.

Support Prices Not Given All

Fluctuations Belie Government Promises

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—Government promises to support farm prices do not always mean that farmers will get the amount guaranteed.

The price support program for last year's wheat crop affords a good example of this.

The Agriculture Department announced at the start of the harvest season that it would support grower prices at a national farm average of $1.95 a bushel.

Figures just released show that farmers received an average of $1.86—nine cents a bushel less.

In the 12 years since price support programs were started, prices of wheat have averaged from one to nine cents below the support level in five years. In the other seven years prices averaged above the floor from three to 46 cents. Why? Supply and demand.

When supplies are large in relation to demand, prices tend to drop below the support level. When supplies are short in relation to needs, prices rise above supports.

The biggest average above supports was 46 cents for the 1947 crop. That year overseas demand for grain was so great that United States supplies were virtually used up before the 1948 crop was harvested.

Theoretically prices should never drop below supports. And they wouldn't if all farmers took advantage of price support programs.

The government seeks to support prices by offering farmers loans on crops at the support level. Storage under loans has the effect of removing supplies from the market. If all grain went under loan, buyers would have to offer as much as the loan, and perhaps more, to get it.

But there always are some farmers who do not take advantage of the supports. Some are not eligible. To be eligible they must comply with government crop control programs and put grain in acceptable storage.

Consequently some farmers sell their crops for whatever they can get. This pulls down the general average.

Prices tend to be lowest during the harvest season and highest months later, after some of the grain has been used and supplies are reduced. A year ago wheat farmers who did not take advantage of the price support loans were getting prices as much as 25 cents a bushel below the support rate.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., July 8—(AP)—Apples are beginning to move to market in this four-state fruit belt and indications point to a heavier than average crop.

Early harvested apples so far have been in good condition but a little small. Many growers apparently are trying to hold off the harvest of this early variety for a week or ten days in the hope that time and rain will improve the quality and size.

DISTRICT farmers with the hay-making season upon them were notified by the U. S. Weather Bureau today that conditions are just right for these operations.

Almost daily rains had held up cutting and farmers were getting quite worried. The crop is reported unusually heavy. Frequent rains and mild weather were just right for grasses.

NO SERIOUS threats to Ohio field crops in July from corn borers, grasshoppers or cinch bugs are seen by T. H. Parks, extension entomologist.

He says corn borers began hatching during mid-June in central Ohio, but egg-laying has slowed down and the situation does not look too serious. He believes the infestation of borers must be higher than that of last season to justify treatment, except for growers of canning corn and seed corn.

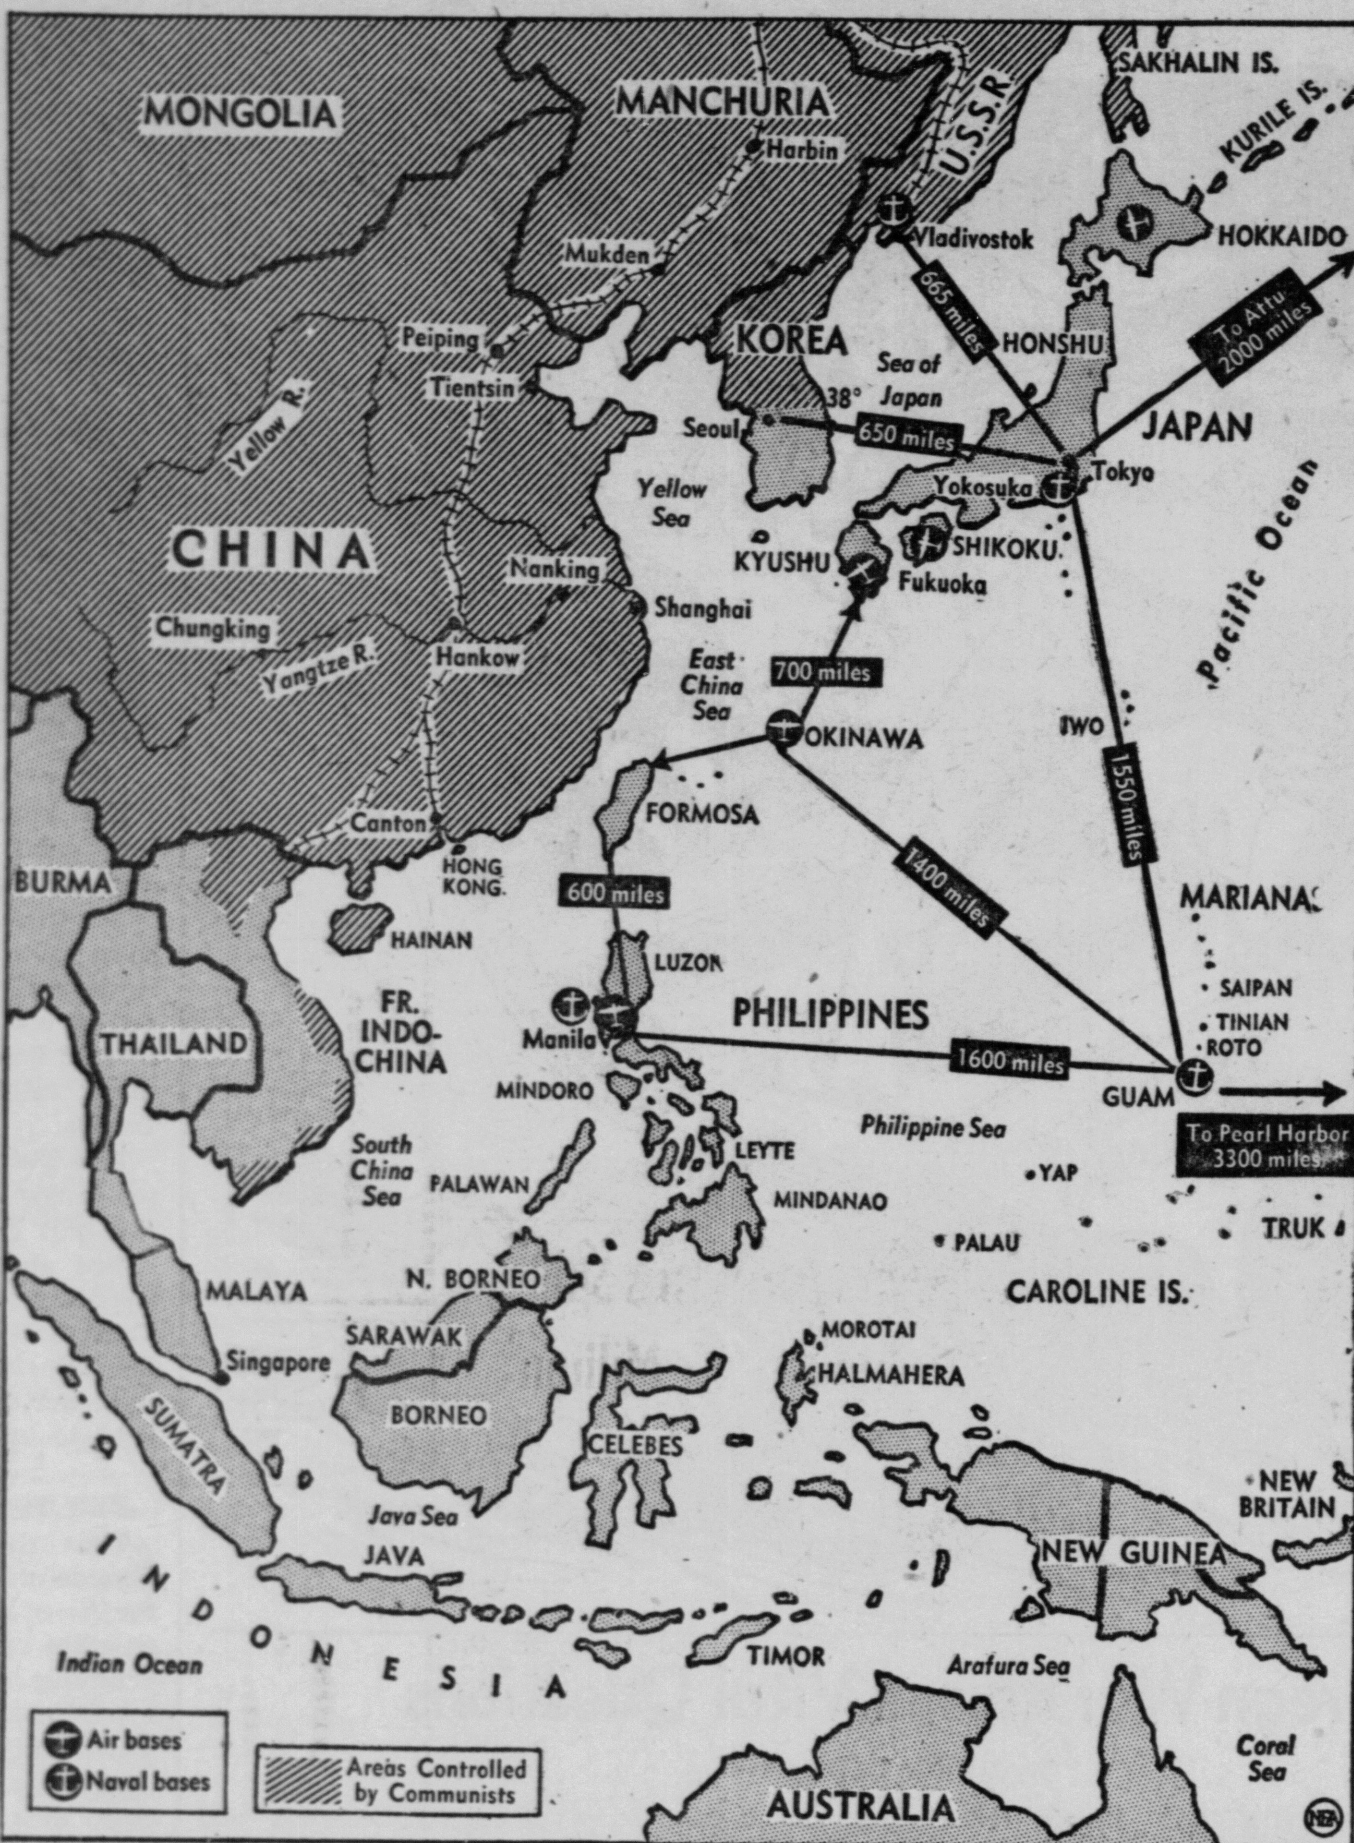

Grasshoppers are now hatching, but Parks does not expect a general outbreak. He warns farmers to watch for local outbreaks in favored areas—legume seed fields, soybeans, corn fields adjoining alfalfa, hay or pasture, and tomato and tobacco fields.

Chinch bugs have not yet been reported, but may move out of wheat fields in July and damage late corn. Parks advises farmers who suspect insect damage in their fields to contact their county agricultural agent immediately for the latest suggestions on control.

He went on to say that 15 Ohio counties have been hit by army worms. But, the insects, which have threatened to cause considerable damage to crops in the Salem area, appear to be dying off.

Make Use of Leftover Turkey

TURKEY is one of the best meat buys today. Not only roasted, but in dishes made from leftovers, it pleases almost everyone.

Here are two wonderful recipes using what's left of Sunday's turkey:

*Turkey Hash (4 servings)

One-half cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoons drippings, 1 cup cooked finely diced turkey, 2 cups diced boiled potatoes, 2/3 cup rich milk, salt, pepper, paprika. Cook celery and onion in drippings until onion is transparent, but not browned. Add turkey, potatoes and milk. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until heated thoroughly. Season to taste. Increase heat the last 10 minutes to brown bottom.

Variation: Divide hash which has been heated thoroughly into four individual baking dishes. Make a hollow in each and break egg into hollow. Place in a broiler about 3 inches from heat. Cook until eggs are desired consistency, 5 to 8 minutes. Chili sauce goes well with this.

Turkey Sandwich Loaf (Makes 6 sandwiches)

Four hard-cooked eggs, 1 cup finely chopped cooked turkey, 1/4 cup chopped sweet pickles, 1 can (10 to 12 ounce) cream of chicken soup, salt and pepper, 12 slices bread, 2 tablespoons softened butter or fortified margarine, 1/4 cup milk.

Chop two of the eggs. Combine with turkey, pickles and half of the soup. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Trim crusts from bread and cut slices in half to make 24 pieces. Place 6 pieces of bread close together on baking sheet or heat-proof serving platter. Spread with turkey mixture. Top with layer of bread. Repeat until there are 3 layers of turkey and 4 layers of bread. Brush top with the softened butter.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until lightly browned, about 15 minutes. Blend milk with remaining soup. Heat to boiling. Add remaining chopped eggs. Serve over sandwiches. (NEA Service Inc.)

Airlines, Seaports Increase Activity

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8—(AP)—War in Korea brought a new stir of activity in west coast ports today. Airlines and shipping firms marshaled ships and planes to supply U. S. forces in the Western Pacific.

Port Chicago near here, the Pacific fleet's principal ammunition storage depot, was placed on a 24-hour work day and an urgent call was issued for men.

Pan American Airways announced it was moving planes to the west coast from Miami and New York. Transocean Airlines recalled all personnel on leave and announced it was seeking additional DC-4 transports.

American President Lines announced it has petitioned the U. S. Maritime Administration for additional vessels to "help in carrying out the military defense assistance program."

The first shipment of ground forces equipment under the new military defense assistance program will leave tomorrow or Sunday from Port Mason here aboard the Isthmian ship Steel Rover. It will include eight and ten ton truck trailers, signal equipment and small arms equipment.

New Anti-Armor Gun May Be Manufactured

NEW YORK, July 8—(AP)—Dr. Vannevar Bush, scientist, said today a powerful new land weapon which could make short work of heavily armored Russian tanks could be in production in six months.

"How fast it will be put into production depends upon how much pressure is put behind it," he said on his arrival from Europe on the liner Vulcania.

In a recent speech in Paris, Dr. Bush, wartime chairman of the joint research and development board in Washington, described the weapon as "a marriage of the bazooka and the recoil-less gun."

He said it was one of the most dangerous developments since the last war. American troops have been reported using the bazooka and the recoil-less gun in Korea.

Asked about the danger of the new gun falling into Russian hands, Dr. Bush said "they might not use it in Korea for that reason."

The U. S. Geological Survey says electronically controlled aerial photography will speed the mapping of many inaccessible areas.

Use Of U. N. Flag Denounced By Russia

BERLIN, July 8—(AP)—The Soviet army's local newspaper, Taegliche Rundschau, today denounced the proposed use of the United Nations flag by intervention forces in Korea as "a gross misuse of the U. N."

The proposal that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be named supreme Commander of United Nations forces in Korea was also denounced by the Russian controlled press here. It labeled MacArthur as a "Fascist dictator and aggressor."

New Weapons May Be Tested In S. Korea

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—The Korean war front may become a testing ground for new and improved American weapons.

Right now United States forces, locked in a bitter land battle with a surprisingly powerful enemy, are using whatever they had handy when they were rushed into what started as a mere "police action."

As the fighting goes on, additional weapons will be brought in—possibly including many new ones.

On the basis of the type of warfare currently predominating in Korea, speculation at the Pentagon is that ground force weapons likely will be the first to undergo any battle-testing. Such trials under the hard, punishing conditions of actual combat are considered essential to get the "bugs" out of new designs.

However, the possibility was discounted that radically new weapons of mass destruction, like atomic bombs, might be given field trials.

Soldier Indicted On Conspiracy Charge

SANTA FE, July 8—(AP)—David Greenglass, 28, has been indicted for selling U. S. atomic secrets to a go-between for Russian agents for $500.

Greenglass, an army tech sergeant who helped assemble atom bombs during the last months of World War II, was indicted by a federal grand jury here on charges of conspiracy.

The grand jury charged that Greenglass delivered the atomic secrets to Harry Gold at Albuquerque, June 3, 1945—when America was at war—and received $500 in currency from Gold.

EXPERTS LEAVE ORIENT

Scare Buying

By SAM DAWSON

Much Of It Unjustified, It Seems

Scare buying is beginning to appear in isolated spots. It is concentrated on items which people remember became scarce in the last shooting war, such as cars, tires, batteries, sugar, coffee. It is fed by rumors. It is even egged on, in some cases, by greedy merchants.

In many cases, such as tires and batteries, these sought-after goods are now in full and ample supply—in some cases, such as sugar, in surplus supply. In fact, competition to sell is so keen in tires, for example, that some dealers are holding sales at reduced prices.

In others, such as steel products and some car models, demand was already so high before the Korean fighting that a form of voluntary allocation was in force. A new rush to buy piles up order backlogs but it doesn't get delivery.

The industries that produce the products in which scare buying is appearing are urging consumers not to rush to buy. Here are their reasons:

1. The few dealers who are whispering to customers to "buy now while you can" are out to make a fast buck, regardless of the risk of hurting all concerned, leading to feast and famine within the industry itself and ruinous inflation for the country.

2. Some of the products on which this scare tactic is being tried—tires, batteries, coffee, for example—deteriorate rapidly when stored. The hoarder gets stung.

3. With a full-scale war, price controls would be clapped on fast. Nothing would be saved by the customer in the long run. Not to forget that an unnecessary run on the stores right now would send prices higher, to every consumer's loss.

BUT INDUSTRY LEADERS admit that the war scare is increasing consumer purchases in many lines.

Farmers are buying 100-pound sacks of sugar. Dealers point out that Cuba has about one million tons left over from this year's crop. Washington could lay its hands on that fast if it wanted it for wartime production. Meanwhile, there is plenty of sugar in the stores.

Used car dealers report a rush of buyers, fearful of wartime rationing, and some responding to whispered rumors of Detroit stopping car production to begin making tanks. Auto manufacturers scout such reports. They are also fearful of another rash of duplicate orders for new cars—would-be customers ordering several makes and taking the one that becomes available first.

Leading rubber companies warn against any "buy now" campaign. They say they have plenty of tires for all. Fear here is that the Reds might cut off the supply of natural rubber from the Far East. But the U. S. government has five synthetic rubber plants in mothballs. Ten of the government plants are being operated.

STEEL ALLOCATIONS may be reduced in the fourth quarter, some steelmen say. In spite of running at capacity rate for months, the industry has a large backlog of civilian orders, due to the business boom. Some expect steel demands for defense purposes to be stepped up now. This will push the civilian orders a little bit further back in the files, but the industry sees no real hardships in sight.

Meat prices appear headed higher. This was expected this summer anyway. But if the military start building up supplies, prices will be given an added boost, the Agriculture Department says. It adds that meat prices should come down in the fall.

The munitions board reports it has more than 70 programs ready to mobilize industry, when and if it has plans to put 253 of its war-built plants back into war production quickly, when and if. But the board also insists that this is only a preparedness move—nothing to start worrying about at this time. Just—when and if.

The Butter Problem

THE GOVERNMENT is seeking a way to dispose of 175,000,000 pounds of surplus butter stored up under farm price support programs.

These stocks have tripled during the last 12 months and they promise to get even larger.

Agriculture Department officials have, in their own words, been scratching their heads for an acceptable method of getting rid of the butter. It represents a government outlay of more than $100,000,000, and about 45 days' consumer requirements.

The butter is being bought under law requiring the department to support dairy product prices. Stocks owned by the government represent production in excess of the quantity consumers will buy at support prices. The government support price is 60 cents a pound.

There are certain legislative and economic limits to what the government can do with the butter. It cannot legally sell it for less than cost unless it is in danger of spoiling.

The department could decide that the butter—at least the oldest portion of its supply—is in such danger. But there is a serious question whether such action would improve the situation. Unless consumers ate more butter, the government would find itself buying one pound of new butter from current production for every pound sold from its stocks.

In other words, if consumers ate no more, their purchases from government stocks would take the place of purchases from current output. Under the law, the government would have to buy that portion of current output which could not find a market.

Offer of butter at prices below support levels could be expected to bring protests from margarine producers. Already lawmakers from states which grow vegetable oil crops used in making margarine are protesting to the department against suggestions of a cut-rate price on butter.

The department is offering to give the butter away for relief use, but few states care to set up the distribution machinery which would be required.

Korean War Raises Vital Questions

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON DEVELOPMENTS thus far in the Korean war point certain lessons and raise vital questions. Here are the principal points which are not yet fully realized by the American people:

1. The United States now stands committed to put military forces into action in Europe and Asia the moment either Soviet forces or satellite armies controlled by Russia start hostilities against Formosa, Indo-China, Iran, Turkey, Greece, or West Berlin, respectively.

2. The United States is in a state of virtual disarmament with her manpower at a low point in the army, navy and air force. While the U. S. joint chiefs of staff want to get more manpower ready at once, President Truman is opposed to such action at this time.

3. Airpower alone cannot win a war. Misuse of the term "airpower" has led to an emphasis on strategic bombing which has resulted in huge appropriations for B-36's and other big bombers while the other categories of airpower have been neglected. These are the fighter and light bomber planes that fly from the decks of aircraft carriers and the kinds of planes needed for low-level tactical air protection of ground troops. General Devere, former chief of the ground forces of the army, complained several months ago about the mistaken obsession of airpower-alone-can-win-a-war which was sweeping Washington.

He is now unhappily being proved correct.

4. SOMETHING IS vitally wrong at the top command in Washington. The necessary forces to land instantly at Korea and to protect the seacoasts were not stationed there, though it was known as a trouble area. Was it the fault of the secretary of the navy or the joint chiefs of staffs or the command authority given General MacArthur which kept naval forces away? To these questions must be added another: Why were all our 71,000 Marines stationed in continental United States?

5. Why were the conventional F-51's—now so much needed by the U. S. Air Force in Korea—considered obsolete and turned over to National Guard units while jet fighters not maneuverable in local operations got prior consideration with air force units in active service? These old planes now have to be ferried all the way across the Pacific in ships as they cannot themselves fly across the ocean.

6. Why were the Navy's aircraft carriers put in "mothballs" last year—and a cut of virtually 40 per cent imposed on naval aviation? On whose advice was this fateful step taken?

7. Why did General Omar Bradley say that there never would be need for amphibious troops as the next war wouldn't require any amphibious landings? And has the general—who is the only member of the chiefs of staff who sits in with the President and the National Security Council—changed his views?

8. WHY HAS THE PRESIDENT vetoed the suggestions emanating from his own military advisers that "volunteer reserves" be permitted to come back to their respective services? Is the President overriding military advice because of his desire not to "alarm" the country, and will the country be more alarmed when it discovers that proper military precautions desired by the military are not being taken?

9. What happened to our military intelligence or espionage service in Korea? How much information came in as to Korean mobilization, and what was done with the reports? Who evaluated them and disregarded the plain implications of the information?

10. If the data on a surprise attack on Korea were so poorly handled, have the American people any assurance that they will be protected against sudden attacks in other areas of the world where the United States has vital interests?

11. Why is the administration so sure Stalin will not involve the United States in a series of local wars, forcing American strength to be widely dispersed in the next several months?

12. Can the safety of the United States be guaranteed by armchair speculations inside the government or by stationing American and Allied forces at danger spots with a growing increase in manpower and equipment to stave off possible attacks?

New Retreat

By HAL BOYLE

Reflections Of Last War

NEW YORK

AMERICANS have pulled back in Korea, leaving their own wounded behind. This is what front-line dispatches say. I can tell you how this makes you feel. It makes you feel like you aren't an American. You don't even feel like a man. It takes away your dignity. You need a shower.

How the wounded feel I don't know. I was lucky. I wasn't hit. But I sure ran like hell in the two major retreats that United States forces made in the second world war.

It is kind of healthy to run—from a long term point of view—when there isn't much else you can do.

The first time was in the battle which the home folks call Kasserine Gap. Actually, we stood pretty well at Kasserine Gap. The real retreat was a few days before at a place called Faid Pass—pronounced Faid-end—in a continent called Africa and a country named Tunisia.

This was where General George S. Patton's son-in-law was captured, trying to hold one of two hills outside Faid Pass.

Just about two weeks later Gen. Patton freed his son-in-law by a bold thrust of his Third Army, once renewed in a push beyond the Rhine. He was in one of several pioneer-of-war camps the Patton army brought release to in its march through Germany.

BUT TO GO BACK TO Tunisia:

Then they blamed the breakthrough of Rommel's Africa Corps on the grounds that the American troops, both infantry and armor, were green and inexperienced.

Having come out alive from this retreat myself and having seen men go bravely forward to die there, I cannot accept this cannot against their memory. I said then, have said more than once since then, and still say today, this—they were outgunned and outnumbered on the ground and in the air, and no troops I have ever seen fought better with less.

Their great country just didn't have what these great men needed—when they needed it. Later the supplies did come, and if I rake over this old story today it is only because I know how the outmanned outgunned American outposts in Korea feel.

They feel that at the moment, just as the boys felt in Tunisia more than eight years ago, that death is near, mama isn't here—and Uncle Sam only has promised to come. He did come in time, of course, in Tunisia. And he came in power. But naturally, some of the battle pioneers weren't left by then. I remember a few of their faces—it was so long ago...and the graves registration unit has their serial numbers.

MOST OF THOSE boys are by now back home, sleeping beside relatives who died of kidney disease and other local ailments.

I started out to tell about two retreats: I had made with the American forces. The second one was the Battle of the Bulge, and the same terror wasn't there. Fear can't make you as helpless twice over. You swallow it or go crazy.

What makes me feel sad right now about the American troops being knocked back in Korea—and you don't have to tell me that they are outgunned and outnumbered, because, naturally, they don't walk on their heels for fun—is that the stories from the front indicate they are young.

It may be treachery to memory, but somehow I wish they were all veterans guys who had had it happen to them before.

The hardest thing about war is you hate to hurt beginners. A fellow ought to be old enough to vote once before he dies.

Looking Backward

FORTY YEARS AGO—Property owners have ignored a notice published by the mayor and city council stating overhanging tree limbs must be trimmed to a height of eight feet above sidewalks.

Mrs. William Howarth returned to her home in Chester, W. Va., Saturday after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary Wright.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—A plaid sport outfit comes in brown and several other shades on a grouping of beige, the outfit being banded with brown kasha which also forms the lining, as well as the revers and a little standing collar.

The American government was called upon by Americans in China to take an active hand in suppressing disorder growing out of the general strike of Chinese against foreigners.

TEN YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Callahan left Sunday for New York to spend a few days at the World Fair.

The Dodgers worked so hard helping Ted Freddie Fitzsimmons win his 19th game yesterday that they dropped the second game to the Boston Bees and lost valuable ground in their wild attempt to catch up to the league leading Cincinnati Reds.

Maxie Baer and Tony Galento started snarling threats and swinging at each other while posing for pictures before their 13-round heavyweight bout tonight.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Detroit has dropped out of the complete dominance of the American League and is tied with New York's Yankees for first place all because they met up once again with Washington's Dutch Leonard, the hurler who cost them the pennant last year.

The War Department announced that 4,000 soldiers will be furloughed for work on U.S. railroads "to prevent a breakdown of rail transportation" during redeployment of troops to the Pacific.

This Is No Drill

IT WILL BE a few more weeks before thought and action in this country can become adjusted to the shooting showdown with the Kremlin-guided conspiracy to overthrow all governments it cannot dominate.

In the meantime, there will be a great deal of futile pre-occupation with the notion that the whole disagreeable business somehow will turn out to be a bad dream.

But the shooting showdown with the Soviet Union is not a dream.

As they say in the navy when the real thing is happening, "This is no drill!"

Most of us will find it hard to follow events abroad. Almost none of us can expect to weave our way through the twistings and turnings of an unprecedented Snaifu in international law. Korea and the other places where trouble is expected to break out as the Kremlin probes for weak spots will seem to be a long way off. Events will seem remote and unreal.

But this is no drill. It is the real thing. All of us, remembering what we learned during World War II are trained to do what is necessary. That does not mean everybody is going to do it. But no one in the United States can plead ignorance of his obligations when U.S. troops are locked in battle. They will bear listing:

1. The obligation to behave like a free citizen of a society which assumes dignity of the individual man. A national crisis is the test of the American ideal, which assumes that American citizens are capable of distinguishing between right and wrong.

2. The obligation to observe the rights of others, taking no undue advantage of any fellow citizen on the excuse that ordinary rules of fair play are suspended.

3. The obligation to behave responsibly in all usual and unusual situations, which includes a sense of responsibility about what is said which might be unfair or directly harmful to the welfare of others.

4. The obligation to remember at all times and in all things that there is nothing to inspire happiness in a situation causing the death of others—that a state of war, a state of preparedness or even a state of readiness to deal with a potential emergency is not an occasion for making hay while the sun shines. Inflation is not prosperity but the denial of prosperity.

There will be hoarding, rumor-spreading, profiteering, gouging, chiseling and middle-headedness as the result of the newest crisis. There will be politicking, babbling, browbeating, backbiting and fact-twisting, these things go with war. The trick is to keep them in proportion to the fine qualities which come to the fore whenever the United States exerts its collective power. Turning that trick is the responsibility of individuals.

If Americans haven't learned by this time what not to do when their collective security is challenged, the Soviet Union's plot for world domination will unfold under more favorable auspices than the Kremlin had dared to hope it might enjoy when the time came for the showdown. It is counting on the domestic collapse of the United States far more heavily than on the mere overrunning of areas like southern Korea.

All In Favor Say 'Aye'

SENATOR KARL E. MUNDT of South Dakota must have winced inwardly this week when he warned members of the Upper House to be on guard against a forthcoming flood of protest against his proposal to control known Communists in the United States. He predicted the lefties would be using the mails, the telephone system and the telegraph system to criticize his bill and hoped his fellow Senators would consider the source before making up their minds.

Surely this misgiving marks the all-time low in cynicism about representative democracy. It has been known for years that some members of Congress are guided by the size of the squawk against or praise for whatever they were considering, without consulting their own intelligence. But it has been a well-kept secret that some of them couldn't even be trusted to hold steady under a barrage from the left.

Could it be that Senator Mundt, having watched the fantastic success of other pressure groups in Washington now thinks of Congress as an automaton with no mind of its own? Has the rubber-stamp credo gained so many converts in the national legislature that one of its own members fears it someday may adopt a resolution to wipe itself out of existence if enough people drop it a penny postcard, a 10-word telegram or a note copied from a form posted on a bulletin board?

We worry about the class of 1950. Since June 15 only three new grads have been around, expressing a willingness to begin at the bottom of the journalistic ladder as foreign correspondents.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

SOMETIMES it seems the only man in the country who isn't getting out of the wrong side of the bed these days is the Massachusetts man who sleeps in a rocking chair.

They say he's the most agreeable man you ever met because no matter what you say to him his rocking chair nods "yes."

He's the only man I ever heard of who prepared for sleep by throwing his clothes on the bed and sitting down in the parlor.

But he's the envy of people who fidget while waiting for company to go home so they can retire... he's retired when they arrive.

And there must be something to his sleep system... he got to be 90 on three hours of uncurled dreams a night.

His advice to the younger generation is "keep your backbone vertical and your toes horizontal and you'll never fall off a cot."

Clever vacationer (above) swims for health, beauty and pleasure, making a big splash with triple-purpose water exercises. She jumps (left), breast-strokes (upper right) and flutter-kicks (lower right) for muscle toning, figure molding and just plain fun.

SWIMMING'S one sport that's not restricted to the experts. Even if dunking dog-paddling is the limit of your skill, your time in the water can be as healthful, happy and beautifying as that of the girl with the perfect stroke.

Not only is swimming fun, but it is a pleasant and effective way to exercise. In as short a period as a two-weeks' vacation you can, by applying yourself to swimming and water play, slim down your bulges and improve your muscle tone.

Since the water is buoyant, it supports much of the weight of your body while you devote most of your energy to the health or beauty improvement you're seeking.

The flutter kick is an old standby for melting down excess poundage on hips or thighs. It works equally well as a part of your swimming stroke or as a concentrated side-of-the-pool exercise. At the beach or in mid-pool a ball or life preserver can be used to provide support.

Although a shallow splashy flutter is fun, a submerged kick should be used for serious slimming. This is more difficult, but it is also more effective.

To provide a good workout for all your unused leg and foot muscles, vary this exercise by turning first on your stomach and then on your back.

The breast stroke may be used to mold your arms into new shapeliness and to develop the pectoral muscles that support your bosom. This movement serves not only the girl who streaks through the water in seconds flat, but the non-swimmer as well. By wading out into chest-deep water, you can propel your arms through the same stroke and derive the same benefits, provided you put real force into the motion.

By leaping the waves as they roll up the beach, or by simply jumping up and down in the shallow end of the pool, you can strengthen the muscles in your calf. After such a toning up your regular duties with spring in your walk and renewed confidence in your appearance.

Daily Dozen

By BOB DIXON

IT WAS a good move on the part of Casey Stengel, New York Yankee manager, when he named Jim Hegan to the A. L. All-Star cast.

Aside from Yogi Berra of the Yanks, purely on his hitting, there isn't another catcher in the loop who can touch the big Tribe backstop.

How he ran as low as fifth in the voting for the team is more than we can fathom. Ahead of him were Phil Masi, who was waived out of the National League, and Aaron Robinson, who has been shunted around the loop for years.

In fact, Hegan might even have rated the nod over Berra, had he not injured his back about six weeks ago. Prior to that time he was hitting in the upper .300's.

Stengel, however, seemed to have missed the boat when he passed over Al Rosen in his choices.

The chunky Cleveland third base guardian is topping his league in homers and rates about sixth in runs batted in, along with a .300 B. A.

In his three months as a regular, Rosen has been as impressive as Walt Dropo, the Boston first baseman, who was voted a starting position. Of course, you can't compare him yet with George Kell of the Tigers. He's tops.

The choice of Bob Lemon to the big team was almost automatic, but Bob Feller's name was not expected to grace the lineup.

The big Iowan is still a pretty fair country chucker and it's good to see that his talents are appreciated even in haughty New York.

The American League will have a rough crew of hitters to face the senior loop twirlers. How would you like to pitch to Kell, Doby, Doerr, Evers, Williams, Rizzuto, Dropo and Berra in order?

Unless the National club can come up with some air tight mound work, the game is likely to be another of the old American League romps.

The Nationals haven't won an All-Star game since 1944, at which time they weren't playing baseball, but more of a modified game of beanbag.

Fair Or Foul

By OSCAR FRALEY

AFTER 12 brilliant years in the outfield which carried him to baseball immortality, joltin' Joe DiMaggio was destined today to become the full-time first baseman for the New York Yankees next season.

The Yankees made the grand experiment at Washington on July 3 when DiMaggio, with only a half hour of practice, took over the initial sack and handled 13 chances without an error.

That was the clincher. And, while the Yankee Clipper doesn't like the proposed change, there is no doubt in the Yankee camp that when the club goes south next spring the transformation will be made.

The Yankees believe that the shift will prolong DiMaggio's career.

His arm has been ineffectual since 1946, after his return from the service. And those much-injured DiMaggio legs, while fit now, are too questionable to risk in the outfield sprints.

DiMaggio was relieved when he was returned to the outfield. He had no difficulty digging balls out of the dirt at first, but with men on base and in bunt situations, the Clipper was inclined to become rattled. He just didn't have the experience necessary to handle first, having practiced only 15 minutes at Washington before taking over in the one game.

"I just wasn't sure where to make the play," he explained. "I felt as if I was always one play behind or one play ahead."

Stengel didn't have the heart to ask DiMaggio to change and enlisted the aid of Dan Topping. Owner Topping approached Joe and DiMaggio, ever a team man, agreed immediately to do anything which the brain trust thought might help the club.

"Naturally, I don't like the idea of changing a position after so many years," the Clipper asserted. "But I'll play wherever they want me."

Football's Coming

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

A PERSPIRING postman came in with a copy of the 1950 National Football League record and rules manual, which incidentally recognizes All America Conference for the first time. . . . That was sufficient reminder that they'll hardly get the All-Star baseball game out of the way in Chicago next week before the footballers will begin drilling for the All-Stars vs. Eagles game in the same city Aug. 11. . . . Just to show you how tough that can be in mid-summer, the Los Angeles Rams recently notified their hirelings to report July 17 and added this warning: "Be in such shape that you can jog two miles, do 30 pushups and run five 100-yard wind sprints on opening day."

From the college side, Michigan, whose smallest home crowd last fall was 79,200, reports probable sellouts 97,000 (plus) for Michigan State, Illinois, probably Northwestern and maybe Wisconsin this year. . . . And even out in Hawaii, Michigan State's Biggie Munn is suffering because a conference rule won't let him start drills before Sept. 6, although he has special permission to play Oregon State, Sept. 23, a week before other Big Ten schools can start.

Amvets To Play G. F. Team Here Saturday

An outstanding exhibition softball game will be played at West End park at 9:15 tonight when the Salem Amvets meet the Youngstown General Fireproofing club.

G. F., one of the best teams in Ohio, recently defeated the Bell Aircraft team of Buffalo 6-1 at Youngstown. The Bell nine is regarded as one of the country's top clubs.

The Amvets, however, have defeated Fireproofing three times this season, once sweeping both ends of a double-header.

Wayne Russell or John Zines will pitch for the Amvets.

TRAPSHOOT SUNDAY

A registered trapshoot will be held at 1 p. m. Sunday at the Country Club, for shooters in this district. Scores will be tabulated and will count for or against the national average. The Grand American meet will be held in August.

Mullins Loses To Amvets 2-0

Zines, Schaeffer Each Throw Two Hit Game

A base hit by Bob "Doggie" Scullion with men on second and third drove in the only two runs in the Amvet-Mullins game Friday night and gave the Amvets a well-deserved 2-0 victory. The big blow came in the fourth frame.

Both Johnny Zines and Charles "Mutt" Schaeffer twirled two hitters. The victory elevated the Amvets to a clear cut hold on fourth place in the AA League, one game back of Demings.

In Class A last night a sparkling mound job by Fisher News' Bill Sheen highlighted play. He turned in a no hitter against the Men About Town, allowing only two men to reach first on walks, fanning nine.

Fishers collected nine hits off Don Abrams.

Butler Grange checked off a 10-2 win over City Sporting Goods behind two hit pitching by Mercer, in a five inning tilt. Butler got all 10 runs in four innings.

Ted Gray Too Much For Tribe Hitters

Tops Bob Feller In Opener 5-2

Rapid Robert Touched For Pair Of Home Runs

By Associated Press

OFF on the wrong foot, the Cleveland Indians attempt today to dope out the slants of Hal Newhouser in the second game of the "big" series with the Detroit Tigers.

If they really want the pennant, the Clevelanders will have to do a little better job than they did last night against Ted Gray, the fancy 25-year-old southpaw.

The 55,145 fans at Briggs stadium really enjoyed themselves watching the slugger Indians pop up and lash into double plays while the Tigers were beating Bob Feller, 5 to 2.

All Cleveland could collect was four hits, one being Joe Gordon's two run homer in the second inning.

Detroit, on the other hand, took advantage of Feller's famous gopher ball. Bob got into a shaky start in the first inning by walking Johnny Lipon, then letting Jerry Priddy whack a homer into the right field stands. Before the side was out, Aaron Robinson and Don Kolloway knocked in two more runs with singles.

BOB MADE the mistake of serving up another grapefruit sized offering in the fifth and Hoot Evers swatted it into the left field stands for the Tigers' other run.

At one point of the game, Gray did appear to be slowing down a bit. This was in the seventh inning. Al Rosen smacked a clean double to right center to start things off, Ray Boone popped out, but Gordon and Allie Clark, pinch hitting for Jim Hegan, walked, filling the bases.

Here was a perfect spot for Manager Lou Boudreau. He went to bat in place of Feller—and grounded into a double play.

Larry Doby and Luke Easter drove long flies in the sixth inning that were just short of home runs.

Cleveland's expected pitcher today is Steve Gromek. In the Sunday doubleheader, Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon will pitch against Freddie Hutchinson and Art Houtteman.

The Yankees used a pair of two-run homers by Gene Woodling and Cliff Mages to spoil rookie Dick Littlefield's big league debut with Boston. Only Red Sox scoring off Allie Reynolds was Ted Williams' 25th homer into the upper right field stands with a man on in the eighth.

Washington shelled Bob Hooper, who had beaten the Nats three straight, for 16 hits enroute to a 7-5 win over the Philadelphia A's.

Chicago and St. Louis split a twilight-night doubleheader. Dave Philley's two-run homer in the seventh gave Bobby Cain and the White Sox a 5-2 decision in the first game. Owen Friend's 10th inning single won the 4-3 second game for St. Louis. The split moved the Browns into a seventh-place tie with the A's.

PITTSBURGH SNAPPED St. Louis' seven-game win streak, 9-1, in the National League to drop the Cardinals into their first place tie with the Phils, who beat Brooklyn 7-2 on Curt Simmons' 10th win.

Four runs in the sixth inning, routing Ralph Branca, did the trick for the Phils as Simmons yielded seven hits.

Pittsburgh flattened Jerry Staley with a six-run blast in the first inning while 20-year-old Vernon Law went the route for his first big league victory. Ralph Kiner touched up reliever Fred Martin for his 23rd homer with a man on in the second.

Johnny Sain, overlooked in the All-Star picking, became the first big leaguer to hit the 12-win mark, subduing New York, 8-2. Larry Jansen, his opponent, was knocked out in the fifth, to end a seven-game win streak.

Connie Ryan stole home on Johnny Vander Meer in the 11th inning for Cincinnati's 5-4 edge over Chicago. It was the only day game.

Locke Takes British Open In Record 279

TROON, Scotland, July 8 — (AP) — American golfers will have to wait at least another year to take the British Open title from Bobby Locke, the mechanical man from South Africa.

The three U.S. hopefuls who participated in yesterday's finals — Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., Johnny Bulla, the Toledo, O., and Jim McHale of Philadelphia—could not get close as Locke locked up the title for a second straight year with a score of 279 for four rounds.

The South African, solemn and heavily concentrating as usual, came through with a two-under-par 68 for the last 18 holes.

His tournament total bettered a scoring mark that had held up

Legion Cops County Title In 8-3 Win

Salem's sharp Junior Legion baseball team won the Columbiana county championship Friday night at Columbiana, defeating East Liverpool 8-3 in the finals.

Bob Coy drew the starting assignment and allowed only five base hits, after his mates got him off to a four run start in the opening frame.

Tommy Boone, left fielder, enjoyed a perfect night at the plate, getting four hits. Cosgrove, Baird and Oesch each rapped two safeties.

Salem moves into district play at 2:30 Sunday at Steubenville. They play at 2:30 today in the Tri-State tournament at East Palestine.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 8 —(AP) — Louise Brough, the Beverly Hills Tennis star, is scheduled to spend a lot of time on Wimbledon's famed center court today—the finale of the all-England championships. She is in no fewer than three finals.

Louise opens with a bid to win the women's singles crown for the third straight year, then she teams up with her singles opponent, Mrs. Margaret Dupont of Wilmington, Del., to defend the women's doubles title against Doris Hart, Jacksonville, Fla., and Shirley Fry, Akron.

In the last final of the tournament—the mixed doubles championship—she and her partner, Eric Sturgess of South Africa, meet Geoff Brown of Australia and Mrs. Pat Todd of LaJolla, Calif.

America, therefore, must win two more titles to pack along-side Budge Patty's men's singles championship which he won yesterday.

Browns Hope Players Will Be Sent Back

CLEVELAND, July 8.—(AP)—A friendly adjustment was predicted today by Coach Paul Brown to the signing of two players by both his Cleveland Browns and a Canadian pro football team. The players are tackle John Sandusky and back Tom Clavin, both from the Villanova College team. Brown said they signed to play with Ottawa's Rough Riders in Canada's Big Four football league after previously signing to play with the Browns and accepting bonuses from the Cleveland club.

The coach said Ed Emerson, Ottawa president, had "indicated" they didn't know the kids had signed with us.

"It is my belief and hope they will make the boys fill their legal contracts," Brown added.

Major Is Hero

One officer gave orders to unload from jeeps and set up a defense line. Another would cancel it and order jeeps loaded with men and sent to the rear.

A vital bridge that was supposed to be blown up never was touched.

Men who had gone forward only a few hours earlier rushed to the rear, most of them without ever firing a shot.

But the debacle stopped in the middle of Chonan.

A jeep with three officers raced up from the rear and skidded to a halt in the midst of a group of bewildered troops.

The major in the front seat was boiling. "We go back. From now on, we go north," he shouted.

"I'm going forward to do a reconnaissance and we are going back into those positions north of here that we evacuated this noon."

He nodded his head to his driver, and the jeep sped off to the north.

That was the last time the major and the driver were seen alive. The jeep was ambushed a few minutes later, and only Capt. Earl Hill, of Salisbury, Md., survived. He returned to town a couple of hours later and plunged into the fight.

American heavy mortars took care of the enemy.
